

MOVIES

Cinebarre

You've been going to dinner and a movie for years. Cinebarre, the new nine-screen multiplex at Palace Station, makes it easier than ever to have dinner at the movies. The 20-page menu offers everything from crab cakes to pork belly bites to a fried chicken breast served with New Orleans-style andouille gravy and garlic mashed potatoes. If you're just thirsty, though, nine of those 20 pages are devoted to craft beers, wines and Cinebarre's signature "jartails" — cocktails served in Mason jars.

Christopher Lawrence

Caroline Brehman Las Vegas Review-Journal

Hemant Kishore

FOOD & DRINK

Hangover brunch

Whether you get stuck working New Year's Eve, wake up early and need some hair of the dog or simply rage through the night, you'll want to head over to Esther's Kitchen, at 1130 S. Casino Center Drive, as the first noon of 2019 approaches. The team is hosting a special Indian-themed hangover brunch by visiting chef Hemant Kishore. The a la carte menu, with full bar, is available from 11 a.m. through 3 p.m.

Heidi Knapp Rinella

FOOD & DRINK

Works Burger Challenge

It's almost the new year; time for a challenge. While everybody else heads to the gym, consider the Works Burger Challenge at GameWorks in Town Square. Eat the grilled-cheese-stuffed 1½-pound double burger, fries and a shake in 20 minutes or less and you'll get a two-hour unlimited game card.

Al Mancini

